

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

A Service Provided by the Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives
Mitchell E. Daniels, Jr., Governor Paula Parker-Sawyers, Executive Director

December 20, 2006

Greetings,

This Funding Opportunities listing is provided to you by the Office of Faith Based and Community Initiatives (OFBCI). The OFBCI was established by Governor Mitch Daniels with Executive Order 05-16. Our office is responsible for the management of the National Service programs, i.e. AmeriCorps, Citizen Corps, etc. throughout the State of Indiana. Additionally, this office will reach out to faith-based organizations to familiarize them with state and federal opportunities for grants and programs and provide training and technical assistance where appropriate for both community and faith based organizations.

We believe that another important part of our mission is to share with organizations throughout the state information regarding various funding opportunities that may address a specific need. Monthly, a listing of funding opportunities will be sent to you electronically which represents notices this office has received within the last 30 days. The listing is organized chronologically so that you can review funding opportunities based on the published deadline. We will make every effort to only publish available grants whose deadline is two weeks or more in the future, recognizing that it takes substantial staff time to develop successful grants. We hope that you will use this listing to further your mission and will let us know if you are successful in securing additional resources.

Paula Parker-Sawyers
Executive Director
Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives

Challenge Grants

SUMMARY: NEH challenge grants help institutions and organizations secure long-term improvements in and support for their humanities programs and resources. Because of the matching requirements, these NEH awards also strengthen the humanities by encouraging nonfederal sources of support. Challenge grants are offered only when NEH funds will help institutions carry out long-term plans and enhance their financial stability. Both federal and nonfederal funds must provide long-term benefits to the humanities. Challenge grant funds should not merely replace funds already being expended on the humanities, but instead should reflect careful strategic planning to improve and strengthen the institution's activities in and commitment to the humanities. Challenge grants most commonly augment or establish endowments. The income from invested funds may support ongoing humanities activities in education, public programming, scholarly research, and preservation. Examples include faculty and staff positions, fellowships, lecture or exhibition series, visiting scholars, publishing subventions, consultants, maintenance of facilities, faculty development, acquisitions, and preservation/conservation programs.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS: County governments; City or township governments; Special-district governments; Independent school districts; State-controlled institutions of higher education; Native American tribal governments (federally recognized); State governments; Nonprofits having a 501(c)(3) status with the IRS, other than institutions of higher education; Private institutions of higher education.

DUE DATE: May 3, 2007

JEHT Foundation

SUMMARY: Organizations wishing to be considered for funding by the JEHT Foundation should first carefully review the Foundation's program guidelines. They require letters of inquiry from all organizations seeking grants from the Foundation for the first time, or from current grantees seeking funding for projects or programs we have not previously funded. There is no specific limit on the number of requests we will consider from a single organization or on the number of years we will fund an organization. Grant amounts are determined based on the scope of the project, the size of the applicant's budget, the likelihood that other support can be raised, and the JEHT Foundation's available financial resources in a given year. Their staff will carefully review all letters of inquiry. If a request fits within its program guidelines and the Foundation is interested in considering it further, you will be asked to submit a full proposal with supporting materials. Applicants will be notified if the Foundation will not be able to further consider the request.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS: The Foundation has no restrictions on the type of support it will consider so long as an organization's work is consistent with the Foundation's program interests and permissible under applicable U.S. charities law. The Foundation primarily makes grants to public charities classified as tax-exempt under section 501(c)(3) by the Internal Revenue Service, but will consider other organizations if their purposes are consistent with those established by the IRS for nonprofit organizations and can meet a 501(c)(3) financial equivalency test. The Foundation does not make grants directly to individuals or consider requests outside its program areas. Its funds cannot be used for lobbying.

DUE DATE: The Foundation's staff reviews grant requests on an ongoing basis and makes recommendations to the Board of Trustees. Funding decisions are made two times a year. The Foundation will make every effort to consider grant requests at the earliest possible meeting after receipt of a proposal, and inform prospective grantees of grant decisions immediately following the meeting at which their proposal is discussed. Requests for funding may be turned down at any time.

AWARD AMOUNT: Information not available.

CONTACT INFORMATION: The Foundation does not accept letters of inquiry, proposals or grant reports electronically or by fax. Please send one copy of the letter of no more than three pages to: JEHT Foundation, 120 Wooster Street, 2nd Floor, New York, NY 10012, 212-965-0400. Website: www.jehtfoundation.org
